

What is a Primary Care Network?

It is an integrated system of Patient Medical Homes that are networked with each other, with Health Authorities, and with community-based social and health service organizations.

Patient Medical Homes will provide the majority of a patient's primary care needs, the balance of which will be provided within the Patient Care Network.