Frequently Asked Questions about Office Visits

Is there remuneration?

Yes! You will be paid $90 per session for teaching 1 student, or $110 per session of 2 students. In addition, you will receive a UBC faculty appointment which includes many benefits such as free access to most leading medical journals online.

What will the students be doing in my office?

Students learn best by doing; for example, send them to take a history for 20 minutes while you see two patients, and then you can review with them and observe or demonstrate part of a physical exam!

I don't know if I have time to take medical students!

We place students for 3 hours on Tues, Wed, Thurs or Fri afternoons (between 1-5 pm), or Thurs mornings (between 8am-12pm). Times are flexible to suit YOUR schedule. It is possible to incorporate medical students into your busy practice, and we're here to help!
