At this stage, there are many pathways to consider:

It's important to pull together a care team that could include: doctor, CYMH, school staff, and other community helpers. Also be sure to identify any spiritual or cultural practices you'd like to include in team meetings.

By including your personal circle of family members, friends, elders, religious/spiritual supports, etc. you increase your support system and expand your team with important people in your life. This can be overwhelming to organize so identify a main player to help you coordinate the team and plan meetings with everyone present. Remember, you are the expert in your child's life and the team is there to wraparound you and your child and help figure out the next best steps.

It can be helpful to know that each government, medical, and community service is guided by mandated procedures and this may cause stress and confusion. Ask for all team members to sign an information sharing form so you don't have to keep repeating your story. All helpers need your consent before they can speak with one another.

As a youth/parent/guardian, make sure to ask about all the resources and information available to you - every door is the right door.

Possible challenges and tips for success:

- *Wait lists, long assessment times and the number of hoops to jump through
  - ✓ Always follow-up with team members to get up-to-date information regarding wait list times, referral updates, etc.
- *Changing programs
  - ✓ Ask for a new referral to a similar resource
- *Limited access to services, i.e. Child/Youth psychiatrist in a rural area
  - ✓ Consult with your local CYMH office
- *Conflicting schedules
  - ✓ Use easy online tools to schedule meetings
- *Lack of information shared
  - ✓ Ask a team member to take meeting notes with all actions and timelines related to your concerns, ensure these notes are shared with the team

At this level if immediate safety is a concern, you can access the Emergency Dept. at your local hospital or contact 911. If it is not an emergency but your concerns have become serious then your doctor or CYMH may make referrals to places/people like:

- BC Children's Hospital
- Child & Youth Psychiatrist
- Adolescent Psychiatric Unit or Detox
- Hospital Based Services

If you do visit the Emergency Department, specific protocols are in place to help you get the support you need from many of the people listed here.

Remember you are not alone!
