

Divisions Dispatch* submission guidelines

(Updated: February 26, 2024)

Divisions Dispatch is a twice-monthly e-newsletter informing local division members and their staff about important news, policy changes, practice supports, and conferences/events.

Divisions Dispatch functions like a table of contents, providing just enough information for readers to decide whether to click the link (to your website, PDFs hosted there, etc.) Content is edited to match this style.

Stories are subject to approval by Family Practice Services Committee (FPSC) senior staff as guided by feedback from local division members, coordinators, and executive directors.

Content guidelines:

- Informative, timely, free from opinion.
- Two-sentence maximum.
- Must include a direct link to the full information, or a contact phone number or email.
- No graphics or attachments.
- Clear indication of time commitment, deadline, or cost (when applicable).

Please send Divisions Dispatch submissions to Juan Rivera (jrivera@doctorsofbc.ca). Approval is based on several factors; if your story is omitted, it may appear in a future issue.

Webinars and continuing medical education (CME)

Divisions Dispatch doesn't advertise third-party or company-sponsored CME events, but may make exceptions when:

- One or more divisions are closely involved.
- The session is offered at no cost.
- The subject is often requested by divisions.

For general CME advertising, please contact Tara Lyon (journal@doctorsofbc.ca) at the BC Medical Journal.
