WELCOME TO RICHMOND!

Source: City of Richmond, 2015

Richmond is a dynamic and ethnically diverse community of around 200,000 and is the fourth largest city in British Columbia. Richmond enjoys a temperate west coast climate and does not experience extreme temperatures and weather conditions like other parts of Canada. Because of Richmond's distance from the mountains, our average rainfall is 30% less than Vancouver's. With the coastal mountain range as a backdrop, Richmond is only 20 minutes from Downtown Vancouver, 25 minutes from the US border and is the home to Vancouver's International airport and is a major transportation hub for Metro Vancouver.

As a recent venue for the 2010 Winter Olympic Games, Richmond has been experiencing growth and change developing into a highly livable, cosmopolitan city, with many restaurants, shopping centres and entertainment facilities. The City is known for its charming seaside village of Steveston (where you can buy fresh fish or have it cooked for you), Asian summer night markets, and Richmond Olympic Oval, a world class fitness facility for elite sport training and competition and also community services. The Canada Line offers convenient access to Richmond and Metro Vancouver attractions, while the 80 km of biking and walking trails connecting beaches, parks and neighborhoods makes it easy to enjoy the recreational opportunities and natural beauty Richmond has to offer.

- Housing in Richmond – Richmond is comprised of diverse neighbourhoods with a variety of housing options that include single family homes, town homes, condominiums, coach houses, apartments and suites. One can choose to live in a suburban neighbourhood or in the City Centre, which has experienced a rapid development of high-rise condominiums and apartments near transit, amenities and services.

Hotels and places to stay – Richmond has lots of accommodation to choose from if you are visiting or until you find a permanent home. To find accommodation that best suits your needs, visit www.tourismrichmond.com or www.richmond.ca/discover/guide/accommodation.htm

Rental accommodation - is advertised online and in the classified sections of the Metro Vancouver newspapers:

- Richmond News:
<http://classifieds.richmond-news.com/>
- Richmond Review:
<http://www.richmondreview.com/>
- The Vancouver Sun and The Province:
<http://classifieds.vancouversun.com/>

To find a home to buy – Visit www.realtor.ca for current real estate listings. Almost all houses are sold through a real estate agent who can assist you in finding a home.

➤ Schools

Public - Richmond is served by an excellent public school system, with 39 elementary schools and 11 secondary schools. For more information, visit www.sd38.bc.ca or call 604-668-6000.

Private – Richmond is home to a variety of Christian, Roman Catholic, Muslim and Jewish private schools reflecting the multicultural and multi-faith diversity of Richmond residents. For more information, contact the Federation of Independent Schools Associations (FISA) by calling 604-684-6023, emailing fisabc@telus.net or visiting www.fisabc.ca.

French Immersion Programs - Designed for students whose first language is not French, this bilingual education program is open to all Richmond students. Between Kindergarten and Grade 12, students follow the regular BC curriculum.

Strong Start Programs – are free drop-in early learning programs that promote growth and development in all areas for preschool-aged children. Parents/caregivers attend these programs with their children and are linked to community agencies and services if needed.

Post-Secondary - Richmond is home to Kwantlen Polytechnic University College campus and British Columbia Institute of Technology (BCIT) Aerospace Technology Campus. It lies close to the University of British Columbia and is a short ferry-ride to the University of Victoria.

- Parks and recreation – Richmond's extensive recreation programs and services and bounty of outdoor recreational opportunities all contribute to a healthy active community and help to enhance the quality of life.

Recreation and Community Centres – Richmond has an abundance of modern recreation facilities, including: 8 community centres, 2 ice arenas, 2 aquatic centres, and 2 outdoor pools. Richmond is home to the Richmond Country Club and the Richmond Olympic Oval – a multi-use facility and international centre of excellence for sports, health and wellness, culture and entertainment.

Parks, Trails and Cycling – Richmond has an extensive system of City, neighbourhood and waterfront parks, scenic trails, cycling routes and walking paths. For more information, please visit:
<http://www.richmond.ca/parks/overview.htm>

The City of Richmond offers a Newcomer's Guide in English, Chinese, Tagalog, Punjabi and Russian. This Guide is a central resource for new residents of Richmond, providing further information on the community and services available.

‡ WORK

ABOUT THE RICHMOND DIVISION OF FAMILY PRACTICE

The Division of Family Practice is your gateway to meeting colleagues in the City of Richmond. For family doctors first arriving in Richmond you will find a collegial and diverse group in age, gender and ethnic background, who take practical steps to support each other and who are highly committed to the quality of patient-care. Our membership numbers just under 140 GPs, with the majority working in community-based office practices, 5 as locums dedicated to working in Richmond, 20 hospitalists and 15 emergency physicians at Richmond Hospital. We are proud of the diversity of our membership and the fact that we represent approximately 92% of all GPs that qualify for membership.

Formed in 2010, the Division is a non-profit organization that gives family physicians a collective voice to influence health care delivery and policy with the aim of improving patient access to local primary care, and to work on member-driven projects that enhances both patient care and physician support.

Vision

To provide a collective and influential voice for Richmond family physicians.

Mission

A medical community that protects, promotes and expands the role of family physicians in caring for their patients.

Values

Through our work we will promote and practice the following values:

1. Beneficial - Striving to be beneficial to our membership and/or our patients, outcomes based.
2. Efficiency - Delivering efficient services to our membership, practicing efficiency as a board and promoting workflow efficiency in our medical practices.
3. Influential - Shaping how health care is designed, delivered and evaluated; having a voice with stakeholders, acting with vision

Board Members

1. Dr. Wendy Amirault
2. Dr. Peter Chee
3. Dr. Ki-Sun Kim
4. Dr. Robert Mckenzie
5. Dr. Michael Myckatyn
6. Dr. Rachila Sharma Aucone
7. Dr. Patricia Wong

To learn more about the Division and its activities, please visit our website at

<https://www.divisionsbc.ca/richmond/home> or email the Division at richmond@divisionsbc.ca
