

COMMUNITY WORKER

Highlights

Provides primary care practitioners with an efficient and effective means to support their patients with psycho-social issues that present within the primary care system.

- Enables physicians to focus on patients' primary care needs instead of their psycho-social needs.
- Increases primary care access by utilizing patients' appointment for primary care.
- Provides a direct link between the primary care physician and the resources available within the community (reduces "research" time).

Ongoing Project (Started Nov 2015)