Dear Colleagues,

We would like to invite referrals to the Cardiometabolic Collaborative Clinic (CMCC). This is a primary and secondary vascular prevention clinic. Our clinic systematically manages key cardiometabolic abnormalities (diabetes, fatty liver, dyslipidemia, hypertension) to optimize cardiovascular risk and to get patients to target while optimizing use of pharmacotherapy to reduce overall risk as indicated while supporting lifestyle change. Currently our clinic is comprised of two endocrinologists, a cardiologist, hepatologists, internists, and an electro-diagnostics unit. We also work collaboratively with general practitioners and allied health care professionals (dietitians and diabetes educators) in achieving our mission of comprehensive risk factor management for at risk patients.

The clinic was developed to address the following health care gaps and the need for:

1. A collaborative model of care for cardiometabolic conditions designed to help patients achieve their glycemic, hypertension and lipid targets.
2. On-going support for lifestyle change for patients.
3. Access to timely Ankle-Brachial Index (ABI) assessments and Ambulatory Blood Pressure monitoring (offered to our patients at no charge).
