Thank you for taking the time accepting this letter regarding our search for an OAT doctor. Trew Beginnings Clinic is seeking an OAT physician to work at our Nanaimo clinic and be willing to treat opioid dependant patients with the protocols available through BCSSU for designated patients.

Responsibilities include completing intake documents for new patients, follow up visits including documentation. Prescription refills for non-OAT conditions. Sign off on all lab tests and medical reports when reviewed and to have phone visits where appropriate during covid.

Trew Beginnings provides a safe space for clients with multiple barriers and are always judgement free. We are well-established private clinic that has been providing addiction care for 6 years. This position will be assisting our other three doctors who are at full capacity. The number of patients will be roughly 40-50 and increase as we are always accepting new starts. One of our doctor's is retiring November 2022, and we will be moving the care of their patients over to the new physician over the upcoming months. This will increase the patient load to over two hundred patients.

If this position may be of interest to you, please feel free to call Trish Briggs regarding any further inquiries or to set up a meeting to come by and see the clinic.
